

Go Fish Rules!! By Stephanie Tatta, SLP/Wallingford, CT

Here are some visual cues, along with written text, which allow your students to see and remember the rules of playing 'Go Fish'!

I often play 'Go Fish' using articulation cards with students who are practicing certain target sounds. During the student's turn they must ask, "Do you have a ____?", using the target sound articulation cards, and produce his/her target sound at the specific level he/she is working on (word, phrase, or sentence level). If they are at the phrase or sentence level, either the therapist or student can make up a phrase or sentence with the target word in it.

It is a motivating game as well as allowing the students to have a lot of practice producing their target speech sounds.
