Parents are cool! They know many things and they can do many things that we can't do! A lot of parents had to practice their R sound when they were in school, so they are great helpers! With a parent, practice the R sound in the beginning of the following 5 words while you look in the mirror:

Run, Rig, Ring, Rock, Rail

1st: Watch the lips of your parent while they make the R sound in each of the 5 words.

2nd: Try to match your parent's lips in the mirror when you practice your R sounds in each word.

3rd: Practice that word AGAIN in the mirror and try to make your R's sound as good as your helper's R sounds!

The following words begin with R, but sometimes your R's sound like a W:

1.) Run _____

2.) Rig _____

3.) Ring _____

4.) Rock _____

5.) Rail _____

In the blanks, fill in what the word would sound like to others when you make the W sound instead of an R.
